aid program, the President promised that in the case of Pakistan and military assistance, his government would continue to review this Asian ally's needs and would give them "sympathetic consideration."

President Mohammed Ayub Khan of Pakistan saluted Eisenhower as a great world peace leader whose contribution to human progress and good will has been unsurpassed.

Speaking in Urdu, a Pakistan language, Ayub Khan said the United States is the one country which has done most to serve peace and freedom in the world.

"A major part of the free world takes it for granted that the maintenance of peace and the promotion of universal prosperity is the 'hallowed duty of the U.S.A.'"

The Pakistan president continued, "The rest of the free world feels the same way. The only difference in their case is that while receiving from the U.S.A. what it gives they are not willing to make acknowledgement of it and give cooperation in return."

This was an obvious jibe at neighboring India, with which Pakistan has fought over Kashmir, and Prime Minister Nehru's policy of neutrality between the West and the Communist bloc.

Eisenhower was interrupted repeatedly during his address by the excited Pakistanis, most of whom obviously did not understand English. They broke in repeatedly with cheers. When he finished, a translator repeated the speech in Urdu.

Eisenhower said his conversations with Ayub Khan had given him a clear understanding of the great problems Pakistan faces in its struggle to lift the nation's living standards.

Turning to the role of science in bettering man's future, Eisenhower said no scientific invention is evil in itself.

"It is evil when devoted by unworthy men to wicked purposes," he declared.

Atomic energy, the President continued, can be devoted either to benefiting mankind or to his destruction. He recalled that six years ago he proposed a program for peaceful uses of atomic energy.

FALCON, the New-size Ford, is America's lowest-priced 6-passenger car*

The Falcon is priced up to $72 less than its rear-engine competitor... as much as $124 less than other American-built, so-called compact 6-passenger cars. And the new Ford Falcon is the easiest car in the world to own. Just look at these Falcon superiorities!

*Based on manufacturers' suggested retail delivered prices

Up to 30 mpg. The Falcon's outstanding gas economy was proven when a fleet of Falcons traveled every mile of numbered Federal highway. Another savings: The Falcon goes up to 4000 miles between oil changes.

Beauty and economy! The Falcon has the clean lines and the uncluttered good looks of the glamorous 60 Fords. Diamond Lustre Finish never needs waxing. Galvanized structural members resist rust and corrosion. Bolt-on front fenders cost less, replace easily.

Front-mounted engine. For stability and handling ease, the Falcon's engine is mounted up front. You get plenty of free heat from the fire-hair, heater-cooling system, with no sacrifice of gas mileage.

Seats six passengers with all their luggage. The Falcon easily seats six big adults in built-for-people comfort. There's no floor-mounted gear shift to interfere with center-front-seat passenger. Big luggage compartment in the rear holds over 23 cu. ft.

New luxury interiors. You'll find the same quality materials as in the big Fords. Door panels are fully upholstered. Front seat cushions are generously foam-padded. Thick, wool insulation guards against heat and noise.

DOROTHY DIX Husband Comes First If You Want Happy Home

Dear Dorothy Dix:
 I am frantic. My three children keep me hopping. While our house passes the inspection of all my friends, Hubby is making life miserable by his attitude toward my housekeeping. I wish there were a course at night school on how to run a home and clean house. Things are so bad here that my husband even showed me how to make a bed his way! —Ellen

Dear Ellen: A leaflet on "Better Home Management" is winging its way to you. However, I surmise that a miffed husband and not a mismanagement of home, is your real problem. Your husband is miffed because he fancies children and home come first in your affections. That bed-making demonstration is merely an attention getter. Put him first, not children or home, if you want your marriage to be happy.

Try giving him your undivided attention for an entire evening. Park the children with a friend or relative, fix yourself up, put on your most becoming dress, greet him with a hug and kiss when he comes home from work. Give him something special for dinner. Listen when he talks. Praise him for what he's done and said that day. He may be baffled at the start, but before the evening is over he'll be purring. And I'll bet he won't bat an eye if the dust is an inch thick, last Sunday's papers still strewn on the floor, and the window shades at sixes and sevens. Knowing how to manage a home is important, certainly. But more important is the care and feeding of a husband.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
 Five years ago my husband had a nervous breakdown. He is a sick man, I keep telling myself. Yet not too sick to eat, sleep, watch television, drive a car and enjoy the fruits of my hard work. He hates only a factory job even though he has had more than a high school education and won a scholarship. I believe that when people become mentally ill it is only to escape their rightful responsibility. My husband is capable of doing many things as well as I — when the spirit moves him. I really don't think that living with him is doing the children or me any good — or even him. I can take a lot but sometimes I wonder where the breaking point may be for me. At the hospital the social worker told me it was very difficult to live with this type of person. For some, it would be impossible.

I would like your advice and, better still, would like to correspond with people who have dealt with this same kind of illness, especially older women who have been through all of the stages. I would also be glad to help some one by what I have learned. Prayer is a consolation. — P. P. T.

Dear P. P. T.: I have a friend who found herself in a similar plight. Because she loved her husband and because he was the father of her two children, she stayed on, hoping that with tender care, he would snap out of his psychosis. The heart-breaking part was that he did periodically, then ing her, won't she conclude that he isn't in love with his wife, especially if he told to believe that a wife doesn't know about their correspondence? Isn't the husband with the happy home acting a little childish and asking for trouble? — M. K. L.

Dear M. K. L.: Ambiguous though your letter is, I imagine you're the wife and not the old flame in this mushyroming triangle. If you are the wife and sincerely love your husband, ignore the situation. It's as old as the hills. However, I wouldn't take a K. O. decision from the sawdust floor. Neither your husband nor his old flame are playing fair but telling them so won't help. Fight back with all the wiles given to woman. Be charming, gracious and tantalizingly aloof. Cultivate new friends — men and women. Go places. See people. Be interested in others and they'll be interested in you.

When your husband discovers that you are doing very well without him, thank you, wild horses can't drag him from home. Have fun!

Porkers Blast Tulsa for 2nd Straight Win

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—The much-respected basketball coaching brothers, Henry and Clarence Iba are stymied by Arkansas this season.

Hank's Oklahoma State team felt the Hogs' power Saturday night, losing 54-50.

Last night, it was Clarence's turn. The Razorbacks beat his Tulsa team, 65-51.

Pat Foster, a junior, was the potent force in the Porker attack against the Hurricane. Foster scored 16 points, hitting six out of 10 from the court and grabbing 10 rebounds.

The victory gave Arkansas a 2-2 season record and Tulsa a 0-3. Free throws kept the Hogs in the game, as they hit only 10 of 33 field goal attempts. The Hogs connected on 38.5 per cent of their field tries.

High man for the Hurricane was David Voss, with 14.

The Razorbacks grabbed a 12-10 lead early in the first half and were never headed.

Earlier in the evening, Gary Heveland paced the Tulsa freshman team to a 65-50 victory over the Arkansas Shamals. Heveland made 24 points. Jerry Rogers led the Shamals with 12 points.

The Razorbacks meet Mississippi at Little Rock Saturday.

Arkansas Prepares for Gator Bowl

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas continues practice today for the Jan. 2 Gator Bowl clash with Georgia Tech, and all squad members are in good physical shape.

Three of the most potent Hog threats — All-America halfback Jim Mooney, halfback Billy Kiser and quarterback Jim McInroe — all have recovered from injuries. All should be in good condition for the game, Trainer Bill Ferrell said.

The Razorbacks ran through a brisk practice yesterday in the opening workout session, after a layoff of two weeks.

Mooney said his knee had healed sufficiently for him to kick and run at full strength. McInroe's

Across The Counter

Kenneth McMurrough

"I'm new here in Hope," said a man, "and I need some advice on buying auto insurance. Here's what I had in Ohio." And he placed a policy on my desk.

"I would suggest a change or two. It won't cost any more but it will deliver a lot more protection."

"What's that?" he asked.

"I'd replace the $50 deductible collision coverage with $100 deductible. That extra $50 worth of collision coverage is costing you $22.00 per year. But you can take $12.07, and buy not just a mere $50 worth of extra liability protection, but 16 times as much liability coverage as you now have! Higher liability limits are the biggest bargain, and the greatest need, in auto insurance today."

"That sounds real good to me," said the new owner.

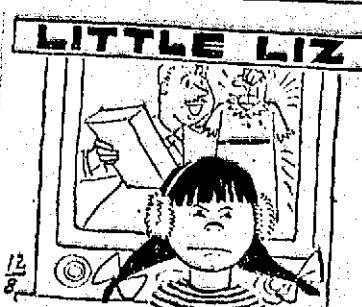

"Then," I said, "I'd add one extra feature. That's the medical payments coverage. It pays for your injuries, or injuries to any one else who is involved in an accident with you. Frankly, it's the cheapest accident insurance on the market. $1000 per person will only cost $9.00 per year."

"I agree," he said, "Go ahead and issue the policy."

May we issue one for YOU as well? We'd be glad to discuss AUTO INSURANCE with you at any time.

Six Schools Place Men on A All-Stars

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Six state powers placed two men each on the Arkansas schoolboy Class A 11-state football team announced today by the Arkansas Athletic Assn.

They were 7A champion De Queen, 1A runnerup Siloam Springs, 8A North Little Rock, 9A South runnerup Lake Village and 5A champion Bauxite and 4A champion St. Anne's.

Fordyce placed end Clete Poole and tackle Ralph Crowder on the 25-man first team, picked by the coaches. The Redbugs won 12 straight games and were ranked the top Class A outfit.

Siloam Springs placed end Rogers and back Gene Anderson on the first unit. Luke Village had tackle Charles McMan and back Billy Hawkins. St. Anne's, which won 11 straight, placed center Bill Baker and back Jimmy Newman.

Bauxite, another team which won 11 straight, placed guard Roger Kinney and back Jimmy Davis. De Queen placed end John Whittaker and back Don Killian.

Others on the all-state line were ends Dennis Harper of Nashville, Billy Silkman of Searcy, tackle Danny Pipkin of Magnet Cove, Larry High of Berryville, guards Mack Landthorp of Clarksville, Gene Crump of DeWitt and Maurice Robinson of Corning, and center Paul Scarbrough of Marked Tree.

Other backs were Wayne Wells of Booneville, Ronny Allen of Marianna, Jerry Weldon of Osceola, Jerry Freppon of Bald Knob and Dennis Brown of Walnut Ridge.

Shoulder hurt has faded. Kiser, who also had a knee injury, had to sit out the last regular game but now is at full speed.

Halfback Jarrell Williams will miss the bowl game because he had a knee operation recently. Williams also will have to sit out the baseball season but should be in peak condition next fall, Ferrell said.

The Hogs will practice through next week, take off for the Christmas holidays Dec. 19 and return Dec. 26. They leave for Jacksonville, Fla., Dec. 28, and will practice there before the game.

Indian Making Like a New Cage Power

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Indiana's hopeful Hoosiers have joined the growing list of probable powers tagged with quick defeats in major college basketball, but Ohio State, Kansas, Iowa, Mississippi State, Auburn and the Big O are still hummin'.

Season's 6-19 disaster, tumbled favored Indiana 79-78 Monday night on Mizou's home court. The Tigers, who trailed by five points at the half, now are 3-0, Indiana is 1-1.

Hope Places One on All State Team

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Forrest City's Mustangs, unbeaten in 11 games and ranked the top Class AA team in Arkansas by the Arkansas Sportswriters Assn., placed three men on the Class AA all-state football team, announced today by the Arkansas Athletic Assn.

Quarterback Donnie Kesinger, Halfback Roy Hall and end Jim Finch were the selections from the Region 2AA All-Star Mustangs.

Little Rock Catholic, which won the 3AA championship and ranked second in the state in AA circles, placed two men, backs Larry Hoyt and Charles Daniel.

Kesinger and Hoyt, generally considered two of the outstanding high school gridirers in the state this year, did not face each other. But their comparative merits were hashed over in every schoolboy football conversation.

Kesinger's running, passing and kicking were his team's main offensive weapons. And Hoyt, passed the Rockets to a 9-2 season with losses only to Hall and North Little Rock.

Crossett, and Hope, the teams that tied for the 4AA title with 5-1 records, each placed one man on the 23-man first team. They were Bobby Keen, a Crossett back and Larry Vaughn, Hope end.

Rogers, the unbeaten but twice-tied 1AA champion, placed end Steve Polphrey on the first unit. Fayetteville, the runnerup in 1AA, placed guard Frank Brewer and fullback Frank Blev on the first team. Malvern had back Eugene Gilbert and guard Raymond Petty and Benton had tackle Ronnie Ringgold and back Norman Tubbs.

Others on the first unit were end Doug Anderson of Helena, tackle John Alwhite of Magnolia, James Gibbs of Stuttgart and Bobby Morgan of Fairview; guards Wilbur Owen of Conway and Mike Venson of Jonesboro; center Jesse Butler of Springdale and Carl Curtis of Harrison; and back Al Smith of Subino.

The Orange led the nation in total offense, rushing offense, total defense, and defense against rushing. They topped the country in scoring with 390 points, giving up only 59. Syracuse averaged better than 450 yards a game in total offense, and held opponents to less than 100 yards.

Porkers Stay in 9th Place in Last Poll

By JOHN CHANDLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

All-conquering Syracuse University were the national football championship crown today with an overwhelming first place vote in the final Associated Press poll, which also showed the first 12 teams solidly lined up for major bowl engagements.

The Orangemen, winners of 10 straight and the only major unbeaten and untied team in the country, took over the No. 1 spot Nov. 7 and held it the rest of the way.

The climax of the season came Saturday in Los Angeles, where Syracuse displayed its might by crushing UCLA 36-8. It was no surprise when Coach Ben Schwartzwalder's team landed 134 of the 261 first place ballots cast by the nation's sports writers and broadcasters.

Syracuse, in replacing Louisiana as national champion, is the first Eastern team to gain the honor since Army in 1945. Last year Syracuse was ninth in the final balloting with an 8-1 record.

The Orangemen, with a second team record almost as powerful as the first unit, will receive the annual Associated Press trophy emblematic of the national championship.

The Orange led the nation in total offense, rushing offense, total defense, and defense against rushing. They topped the country in scoring with 390 points, giving up only 59. Syracuse averaged better than 450 yards a game in total offense, and held opponents to less than 100 yards.

Doctor Serving Life Is a Prison Suicide

MCALISTER, Okla. (AP)—Dr. Ben T. Galbraith, serving a double life sentence for the slaying of his family, killed himself at the Oklahoma State Prison early today.

Warden Robert R. Raines said that the onetime McAlister heart specialist committed suicide in his cell by cutting a small hole in his right leg with a razor blade.

Guard Joe Sherrill found the 37-year-old physician under his bunk at 2:30 a.m. during a routine check. He immediately summoned Lt. E. W. Harrell. When the two returned they found a cellmate, Loral Whitlock, 29, Tulsa, standing over Galbraith. A pool of blood soaked a blanket on which Galbraith was lying.

"I knew something like this would happen," Whitlock yelled to the two guards.

Galbraith was rushed to the prison hospital. Doctors worked to save his life but he died on the operating table at 3:37 a.m. They said he had suffered the loss of too much blood.

Doctors said Galbraith used a corner of the razor blade to cut the femoral artery in his leg. This artery is the main vessel which supplies the lower right extremity.

Holdup Men Get $1,500 at Store

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP)—Two hold-up men obtained an estimated $1,500 to $1,500 from a store here last night, police reported.

The men, after first posing as customers, forced owner Cecil McBryde of Mae's Minute Market to open a safe and a cash register. Butcher Stewart Meeks, clerk of the store, and two customers lay face down on the floor.

Besides the money from the register and safe, the robbers, armed with pistols, took wallets from the five persons.

No arrests had been made today.

Galbraith left a suicide note in which he stated that he wanted his corpse cremated and the ashes mixed in the dirt over the graves of his wife, Kitty, and his three children, Frank, Jere and Sarah Ann.

The bodies of Galbraith's 30-year-old wife and their children, 7, 5 and 4, were found in the family house gutted by an early morning fire. Galbraith was notified of the deaths when he arrived at his clinic from an overnight trip to Oklahoma City.

That was March 17, 1955. Two days later officers found evidence of arson. Galbraith was arrested at his former home in Henderson, Tenn., March 21 and the next day confessed the crime. He said that he had injected an insecticide poison into them and then set fire to the house to destroy the evidence.

When he was being returned to Memphis, Tenn., from Henderson, Galbraith jumped from the car in an apparent suicide attempt. He later made four other unsuccessful attempts to take his life while in prison.
